

Snigdha Shwetank
Manager – Group Safety & Health
Tata Business Excellence Group

Snigdha Shwetank is working with the Tata Business Excellence Group as Manager - Group Safety & Health. He has moved into this role from KPMG, where he was Senior Consultant - EHS & Sustainability. In his role with KPMG, Snigdha worked with several clients in diverse industries such as Metals & Mining, Infrastructure, Footwear, Glass, Heavy & Precision Engineering and Flavours & Fragrance in both leading multinational companies as well as MSMEs. Snigdha also managed prestigious World Bank funded infrastructure projects in India by conducting Environmental, Social, Health & Safety audits of the sites and trainings for contractors and project owners.

Prior to that, he managed EHS site operations in General Electric's JFWTC Campus in Bengaluru. The responsibility included managing expectations of GE's EHS Framework for different elements such as HIRA, Management of Change, Training, Incident Investigation and Contractor-Related High Risk Work such as Confined Space and LOTO. He also supported the expectation of Industrial Hygiene Programme at the technology center. At JFWTC, he managed EHS for its diversified businesses such as Power, Aviation, Healthcare, Transportation and was a business interface for Baker Hughes GE (Formerly GE Oil & Gas).

He is a Mechatronics Engineer and holds a Management Degree from National Institute of Industrial Engineering with a specialisation in EHS & Sustainability.

In this role, he is steering and leading efforts across Tata group companies in the journey of Safety Excellence by enhancing Safety Performance and developing positive Safety Culture through strategic and alignment initiatives.
